5th Sunday in ordinary time year C

“Then bringing their boats back to land, they left everything and followed him”. These words at the end of this week’s Gospel reading of Luke simply astound me. It reminds me of the insightful influence of Jesus on those who were open to hear. In many ways Peter and his partners James and John simply and powerfully fell into the net of this amazing person, Jesus.

I once thought that God’s call to follow happened only once in our life and if you missed the call, well, you simply missed your call! However, as life opens and reveals more and more you realise that the call of God is constant and changing all in one. It is constant because God fully and wholly understands the fragility of our human nature; we need to be constantly called to life as we get distracted so easily. And it is changing just as our life is changing; “to live is to change, and to be perfect is to have changed often”. (John Henry Newman)
